

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT pathway to education and employment

An opportunity for Learn Local organisations to develop and implement projects designed to meet learner needs, and increase participation and attainment

Provided by

The Adult, Community and Further Education (ACFE) Board's Capacity and Innovation Fund (CAIF)

The project also consulted with service providers who work closely with the women at risk, the adult education trainers in the learn local sector, to assist with co-design of the pre-accredited programs. The findings from this support the recommendations on designing and delivering programs to address the learner cohort's barriers and provide support to meet their needs and aspirations to pursue further education and employment.

commUnity+ consulted, co-designed and engaged with disadvantaged cohort of women who are at risk and had multiple barriers to engage with education programs to understand how best they can be supported to maximize their participation in training programs and address equity and access.

The program will take into consideration access to transport, innovation-engaging programs to maximise their participation and address some of their life skills issues (financial literacy and knowledge of community support groups) to ensure the women have wrap around services to support education pathways.

Thanks to the Steering Committee group members for their assistance and support
